Dedication

We, the 1974 Fawn staff, wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation and gratitude to a person who, we feel thas contributed much to the benefit of Kennard Daie and its students.

This person has coached Baseball and Jr. High Football, He was ur. Varsity Football coach of many. successful teams, and has coached the Varsity line for scherily years. His interest in KiD athletics doesn't end there. He has expertly operated the scoreboard and kept the records of Basketball action.

As our Junior Class Advisor, he willingly devoted his time to withstand our disorganized class. meetings, hours of decorating for the Promiland aira ny bakesa e to boost the class treasury.

This man we sacrifice his time in order to help any student. He has earned the respect of his pupils and co workers. Therefore, the 1974 Fawn Staff is proud to dedicate. The Last Picture Book' to a man who we feel has given generously of his time throughout the years to help our class. Mr. James E. Shipman.

Ninth Grade

As freshmen, the students had their first opportunity to select courses. The agricultural course increased significantly in its enrollment during the 1973-1974 school year. Perhaps this was from the outcome of the Junior Agiclub which Mr. Ralph Travis initiated a few years ago.

The members toured historic points of interest in the Gettysburg area in the spring. Their advisors, Mrs. Zatae Atkins and Mr. Vincent Cotter guided the 180 students through their first year of senior high.

Memories of the Class of '74'

Our seventh grade class arrived at ole K.D. Things were strange, new, and hard to see. Everyone came with a different dream in his heart. Now it's the year "1974" and we're ready to depart.

Let's go back to eighth grade and give that year a glance, A record hop entitled "Venus" was our first big dance. Harrisburg was our class trip destination. It is an important place in history of our nation.

We chose our courses in the Freshman year, Senior High days were finally here. The day for our trip to Gettysburg was misty, rainy, and wet.

We packed our lunches, boarded the buses, and had funanyhow you can bet!

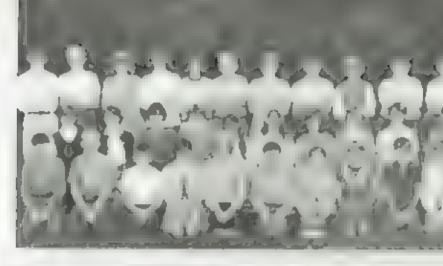

Class pins and "Country Road", our dance, Were the main topics of our sophomore year. Visiting Washington D.C. and Friendship Airport, We gained new insight clear

There are lots of things your junior year brings A play, a prom, and also class rings. "Stairway to Heaven" was the prom we had, We all hold memories of it, some happy, some sad We held our class trip in June, the first week. Went to Philadelphia, to visit French Creek.

The end of six long, hard years at last, Time to look forward and out aside the past Our lives at K.D. we'll forever hold. Many meories which can't grow old.

Fifty Senior High business students compose the FBLA. Selected students attended the fall Regional Leadership Workshop, where they were given the opportunity to meet with other students and hear speeches of business interest. The FBLA sent students for competition in Regionals. The winners gained recognition and eligibility for state competition. The new School Store was initiated by the group. Mrs. McElwain acts as advisor. She is assisted by others of the business staff—Mrs. Kulpon, Mr. Butcher, and Mr. Fulton.

K-D Letter Service is organized to give the business students the opportunity to apply their skills to practical purposes.

These students type copy in proper form for the school newspaper; type tests for teachers: design tickets, duplicate and cut them to size for school activities; plan, type, and duplicate programs for various school performances.

Some of the secretarial students, as student secretaries to teachers, take dictation and type letters. They also may post, file, and keep records.

Each student's work is credited on her or his school transcript so that future employers may know that the student has had this practical experience.

The F.H.A.'s annual service project is titled "Concerns of Children". To fulfill this theme they have designed baby books for foster children, collected clothing for the Rescue Mission, and the group presented a Christmas program at the Well Baby Clinic in Stewartstown. Also, candles were sold in the spring to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation. The selling of cookbooks was chosen as a moneymaking project this year.

Each of the forty members of this organization serves to attain her junior and chapter homemaker degree. One semester of homemaking courses is required for initiation

Another

The class of '74 journeyed into the thirties for the Junior class presentation of "Another Language". Set in a Manhattan apartment, the three act comedy-drama involves the troubled Hallam family. The family holds regular Tuesday night home-comings at which Mrs. Hallam dominates family affairs and gossips about her fourth son's wife. Stella, for not complying with the family's order. Because of her actions, Stella is rejected by the other Hallam wives

Director Benjamin Emenheiser displayed his talents for the first time in this production. As an added touch, the entire cast foxtrotted to the tune of "Heartaches" on an old Victrola

Kennard-Dale's cindermen had it rough going this year, losing all five meets primarily because of lack of enough personnel and the inexperience of those who were on the team. This was Mr. Garrett's and Mr. Wentz's last year as track coaches, as they both resigned effective the end of the season. The Ram team did well in dashes, pole vaulting, and shot put. Jake Bach took several firsts in the 100 yard and 220 yard runs and competed at the district meet. Dan Hushon holds the record for the 120 yard high hurdles. This was the first year for this event.

The Kennard-Dale High School Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Douglas Winemiller and Drum Major Steven Houdeshel, entertained fans with renditions of contemporary music during the football season. Their talents were again displayed during the Homecoming parade and the Halloween parade through Spring Grove.

Band

Colorguard

Colorguard has assumed a more important role this year. They performed in several parades and enlivened the pregame and halftime activities during the 1973 football season. The squad has been enlarged to twenty-three members, impressive flags of blue and white enhance their routines. The rifle section of colorguard designed new uniforms; gold shorts and vests.

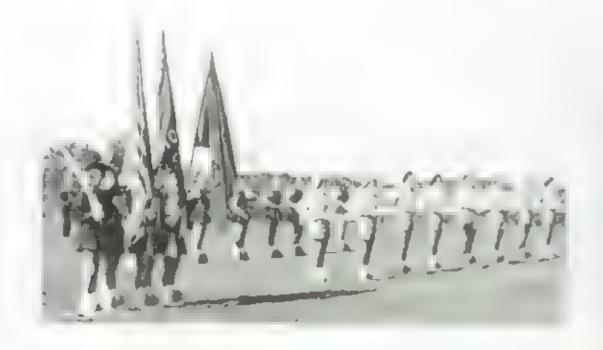

The group is advised by Mr. Larry Wentz and commanded by Miss Dawn Leight, in her second year as Captain.

In Memoriam

On November 2, 1973, residents of Fawn Grove and students of Kennard-Dale, lost a good friend, Mr. Ferd Webb. Mr. Webb was the owner and operator of Webbs Garage in Fawn Grove. The services this man rendered to Kennard-Dale are ones for which we will always be grateful. Memories of "going to the store" are part of every graduating class.

On August 4, 1973, Robert Fulton was killed in an automobile accident. Bob was a familiar sports figure at Kennard-Dale. He was a pitcher for the baseball team and manager of the basketball team Bob served as a photographer for the 1971 Fawn staff. Students of Kennard-Dale and graduates of the class of 1971 will long remember him
